

HAVE DARK HAIR AND LOOK YOUNG

Don't Stay Gray! Nobody Can Tell When You Darken Gray, Faded Hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, it is restored to its natural color and looks glossy, soft and beautiful. This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Adv.

MARSHFIELD

The ladies are requested to meet next Thursday afternoon to sew for the Red Cross.

R. W. Davis was in Barre last week to attend the Knights of Pythias convention.

Mrs. Susan Thomas has been in Montpelier the past week or two at the home of her brother, George English.

GROTON

Town Over-Subscribed Liberty Loan Quota First Day.

Groton over-subscribed its quota on the first day of the Liberty loan drive. There were 170 subscribers to the loan, and the amount subscribed on the first day was $17,000. The quota was $17,500.

Miss Mary Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Hall, is ill with pneumonia. Mr. Hall and son, Bartlett, are also ill with grip. Mrs. Fred Frost, a trained nurse, is assisting in the care of the sick ones.

Miss Loretta Taylor of St. Johnsbury was called here the last of the week to care for her mother, Mrs. Maribah Taylor, who is ill with grip.

W. R. Carbee and W. B. Darling left Monday for Bellows Falls in search of employment.

Mrs. Willey of St. Johnsbury is caring for her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Chalmers, who is ill with the prevailing distemper. Mrs. Richard Annis passed away Saturday morning after a long period of ill health. Funeral services were held at the home Monday afternoon, Rev. F. W. Lewis officiating, and burial was in the village cemetery. Jennie Carpenter was born in Groton 50 years ago and was the daughter of George and Caroline Page Carpenter. She is survived by her husband and four children, Mrs. Harry Shorey of Montpelier, Mrs. Fred Brown, Charles and Lela Annis of Groton. She also leaves her father, George Carpenter of Wells River, and two sisters and two brothers, Mrs. Bert Bailey of Topsham and Mrs. Hall Lund of New Hampshire, Fred and Rhona Carpenter of Groton.

George Haskell left Sunday night for northern Maine, being called there to attend the funeral of his brother, whose death occurred at Camp Devens.

Mrs. Emma Davis arrived here Monday from Lynn, Mass., and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Clark and Mrs. E. J. Clark.

EAST CALAIS

Mrs. Annie Pierce of Hardwick visited Alma Leonard the past week.

Clare Templeton of Montpelier was in the village Saturday.

Lewis Prevost, a former well known resident of this village, now of Springfield, visited friends in town several days the past week.

County Agent Abbott was one of the speakers at the grange fair Saturday.

Robert Kenniston has been sick and in a hospital at Camp Upton.

"Large bodies move slow," and it was feared that L. W. Gray would be too late with his donation for the Red Cross sale. He was last but not least, as he came across with potatoes, apples, vegetables, poultry, yes, a whole wagonload of stuff.

A large number of donations were received on Saturday, among them $5 from D. B. Dwinell, $1 each from John Goodell and George Clough, poultry from Herbert Weeks and calves from Orin Jackson and Rabbit hill ranch and a dog from Mr. Cheever of Montpelier. For all these and many other gifts the Red Cross is very grateful.

Considering the condition of the roads and the prevalence of influenza in other towns the attendance at the grange fair was large, the gate receipts being over $38 (10 cents per ticket). Nearly everything sold for a good sum. The exhibits were very good considering the late and early frosts. To sum it all up, the grange fair was a great success.

Guy Bancroft was in Montpelier Saturday.

Louise Lawson drew the organ that was sold on ticket at the fair.

The local Red Cross wishes, through the columns of this paper, to thank the Calais grange, all who gave gifts, all who gave work and everyone who assisted in making the grange fair and Red Cross sale a success—maybe the Barre Daily Times desires the most thanks in so freely and willingly printing so many pieces that served to advertise the fair, also to Byron Wilber, who acted as salesman. We extend our thanks. In short, we say: Thank you, one and all.

Word was received Saturday of the death of Glenn Carr of Boston. Mr. Carr was a former resident of this village, his wife being Sadie Emery, daughter of John Emery of this village. He leaves a wife and two small sons.

Mrs. Myrtle Drennan is nursing in North Montpelier.

Carl Gray was detained from his school

NEWBURY

Last Thursday evening at the response of a general invitation, 25 men met at the home of J. B. Hale for a double purpose—that of meeting Foster L. Haviland and his friend, Rev. Ernest A. Pressey, pastor of the Trinity church, Woodford, Portland, Me.; also that of talking over in an informal way the best method of forming a men's club in order that our men can get together once in two weeks the coming winter for social intercourse, touch elbows and get better acquainted. After a word of welcome from the host, followed by a few remarks from Rev. Henry S. Ives, pastor of the Congregational church, Mr. Haviland introduced the speaker, Rev. Ernest A. Pressey, who covered in his address the whole range of human history, embracing with wonderful simplicity and clearness five great epochs, which he separated into conquest, faith, realization, inspiration and awakening, surveying with fascinating continuity life's activities for the past 5,000 years and the impress of its heritage upon the present period of world struggle for the liberty of man.

In an astonishingly few words Mr. Pressey pictured the wonderful civilization existing among the Samaritans and Akkadians, when at the beginning of the period of conquest B. C. 5000, the hordes of Semite people swept down from the highlands, overran the Mesopotamian valley and took the ancient civilization in this cradle of the human race between the Tigris and Euphrates.

He lucidly portrayed the following period, the progress of faith, when arose citizen Abraham and a new phase of historical progress was traced for 1,000 years, to the beginning of the third period, that of realization, remarkable for the rise and establishment of David and Solomon and showing of what Abraham only dreamt was realized in the glories of this new kingdom, preceding the fourth period of inspiration, evidenced not by material but by spiritual progress. Here Christ brought the inspiration upon which we live to-day.

With marvelous clearness Mr. Pressey exhibited his perception as a man and as a student in bringing his hearers understandingly down through the preceding years of this fifth epoch, that of the great awakening, when a new start, a new inspiration, began following A. D. 1000, when it was thought the world was at an end, and through the ensuing period of the birth of art, literature, building and the crusades to the present dawn of a period of freedom, democracy and civilization. Following the address light refreshments were served, short speeches were made by various ones and a social time was enjoyed by all. Rev. Mr. Ives was made president pro tem, Foster L. Haviland, William Monroe and H. D. Fulton, committee, and J. B. Hale, secretary. With the singing of "America," the party broke up as the village clock struck 12, all feeling well paid for braving the violent storm which had raged all the evening.

Word has been received by Mrs. O. D. Eastman of Woodville that her son, Dr. Burns Eastman, has arrived safely overseas.

Mrs. Lapien, mother of Leon Lapien of Woodville, N. H., died at the home of her son Sunday morning.

Both Drs. McKinley of Newbury and Speare of Woodville are much better and it is hoped by their patients and the other doctors that they will soon be able to be out once more.

Mrs. Fulson and daughter, Agnes, were in town for a few days last week.

Mrs. LeClair of this town died Sunday morning of influenza after a brief sickness of a few days. She leaves a husband and two children, all of whom have been sick with the same disease.

J. A. Moore returned from Springfield, Mass., Tuesday last, where he has been attending a meeting of the basket manufacturers. At this meeting the number of sizes of baskets was voted to be cut down and also that the smallest amount of metal consistent with durability was to be used.

Miss Nellie Sturgis of New Britain, Conn., is spending a few days at Hale's tavern.

George Tuttle and wife motored to Manchester last Friday, where he had business with the local fox farm.

George Thomas returned to Lansing, Mich., Saturday, where he entered his second year at the veterinary school. George received military training all last year and expected to join the forces Monday this week.

A bird club was organized at the assembly room in Woodville high school, composed of Wells River and Woodville people. The first meeting was held Sept. 20, and the following officers elected: President, Wendell Smith; vice-president, Mrs. M. J. Mann; secretary, Mrs. M. G. Batchelder; treasurer, Mrs. A. N. Learned; general manager, R. G. Brock. The meeting was called to order by the temporary president, R. G. Brock.

Mrs. Emery White, who has been caring for her grandson in Boston, returned to her home the last of last week.

Ralph Lee, a young soldier who died at Camp Devens last Tuesday of influenza, was born at Newark and was the brother of Mrs. LeClair of this place. He was in town on Sunday, returning to camp Monday.

On account of the continued cases of influenza and grip, the schools will remain closed until further orders. The teachers returned to their respective homes last Friday.

Notices have been posted that all children under 16 years of age must remain off the streets until further notice.

Mrs. Fullerton of Woodville died last Friday evening of the grip. Funeral was Sunday, and interment was in the family lot at Boltonville. Mrs. Fullerton leaves a husband and six children.

BROOKFIELD

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sprague of Springfield were over-Sunday guests of his mother, Mrs. U. G. Sprague.

A son was born Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Grant.

R. R. Rumney threshed 28 bushels of wheat from his bushes, so far.

Mrs. Charles Beard went to Orange Saturday to spend a few days with relatives.

Edwin W. Sprague has moved his family from Northfield into Dr. E. E. Ellis' tenement house.

Mr. and Mrs. V. N. Wardner have closed their house and gone to White River Junction, where they have employment for a while.

Mrs. Julia Follansbee of Mount Pleasant, Ia., who has been spending several weeks with her sister-in-law, Mrs. A. L. Follansbee, went Saturday to Concord, N. H.

E. G. Brown's house is under quarantine, their two sons having the chicken-pox.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Lancelotti and two children of Portland, Me., have come to stay a few weeks with his mother, Mrs. Myra Lancelotti.

Dr. F. J. Locke's family, who have been quarantined with the Spanish influenza, are slightly improved at this writing. It was thought Mrs. Locke's niece passed the crisis Sunday. She is still considered in a very critical condition.

Mrs. Elizabeth Laport, whose condition was reported as being very critical from the effects of a shock last week at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. H. N. Jones, at the Center had a second shock last Monday evening and died from the effects at 11 o'clock. Her funeral was held from her home in East Braintree Thursday.

P. Suydam of White Plains, N. J., who has spent several summers with the Schroeder family at their cottage, died there very suddenly Sunday morning about 10 o'clock. He went out into the yard and the inmates of the house seeing him fall, rushed out and carried him in. He expired from heart trouble before medical aid could be summoned. He had been afflicted with the trouble through the summer. His body was sent to his relatives by express Monday afternoon.

The contribution of 125 pounds of every kind of useful garment, was asked from this section of the town for relief of the destitute Belgians. Two hundred and eighty pounds were donated. I. O. ## Willing to Be Deceived.

"How do you like this butter, my dear?" asked the pretty young housewife.

"Excellent! Why, it tastes like the butter we used to have down on the farm when I was a boy."

"Well, I'll tell you a little secret. This is not butter at all—it is butter's successor, Benefit Brand 'Sweet Nut.' It's better than most butter and it only costs about half as much."

"Why, you surprise me. I never thought you would serve oleomargarine on your table."

"Not I! Of course the law requires them to use the word oleomargarine, but there is not a bit of animal fat in it. It is made from the nutritious part of white coconut meats churned with pasteurized milk. You buy it only at the Direct Importing Co.'s yellow front store, 60 North Main street, Barre, where Benefit Brand teas, coffees, and grocery specialties are retailed at wholesale prices."

Coffee, tea and some other drinks when taken at the evening meal tend to keep some people awake.

One of the merits of

is that it never affects nerves or heart.

In fact one can drink as much Postum as he pleases just before bedtime and no ill results follow, for Postum is pure and absolutely free from caffeine or any other harmful drug or substance.

Postum comes in two forms; Postum Cereal, which must be boiled, and Instant Postum, made in the cup in a moment. They are equally delicious and the cost per cup is about the same.
